Cardinal Logue Gives His Final
Message to This Great Country.

Discussed Many Things in Interview With Well Known Journalist.

OUTWALKED MUCH YOUNGER MAN

Cardinal Michael Logue, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of All Ireland, sailed for home today, after what was doubtless the most strenuous six weeks of his life, even though he was born and raised in the mountains of Donegal and traveled over them as curate, parish priest and Bishop. He was not allowed to walk much while in America, but for six weeks he was going night and day with little time for sleep. With the exception of a brief visit to Montreal and Quebec after his trip to Niagara, and a visit to Washington, D. C., the remainder of his sojourn was confined to the State and city of New York.

A few days ago Joseph J. C. Clarke, the author of "Kelly, Burke and Shea," representing a New York daily paper, was granted an interview with Cardinal Logue. At the close of the interview Mr. Clarke asked: "Has Your Eminence any message to give to the American people?"

"Yes," said the Cardinal rising, "that I think America for having given home and opportunity to the Irish people, and that I wish it all prosperity and contentment."

Earlier in the talk between the Irish Primate and the newspaper representative Cardinal Logue discussed communism, socialism, divorce and kindred evils, and when asked what struck him most in America, he replied: "I would say the contentment of the people. They seem a contented people." Then he added: "The Irish people I see here seem contented, too."

In all his sixty-eight years Cardinal Logue has not seen his people in Ireland. No wonder, then, the condition of the Irish in America surprised him. "I have had my American and push and hustle. I am not blind to all that. That is not discontent. On the contrary solid content is its starting point. I know it. It is the great fact—your underlying contentment. It certifies most strongly to the success of your nation."

"Then our strenuous life," suggested the interviewer.

"It is I take it, a habit more than anything else. I do not think it is unhealthy. When men are not held backward or downward by the narrow pinching things of life they can give more energy to their going forward. You have unworked resources that invite you. The Irishman falls into the swing of it as easily as anybody. I could myself, I am sure, seeing the splendid opportunities in the city, on the plain and over the mountains. I like President Roosevelt, for he seemed so bold and straightforward to say what was on his mind. I admired Washington; it is a fine city."

"And how did our republican form of government impress you?"

"The Cardinal was very thoughtful and took a pinch of snuff from his silver box. Then he said very deliberately: "It seems to me the only republic that has succeeded in combining freedom and progress; in keeping the democratic principle intact while undertaking great enterprises. No matter what belief as to ideal forms of government we start out, governments must be judged by their results. While one honors the American republic, it is well to remember that a republic may embody the greatest tyranny. No pure despotism could not more tyrannously than the French republic. Look at its spoliation of the church. Can any theory of government be more disastrous?"

When asked what he feared most to relieve the acute situation in Ireland he replied: "Well, the best thing is to better conditions and wider opportunities. I do not care to talk Irish politics in America. Naturally I favor all phases of the new Irish movement. The Sinn Féin movement, which sets out to increase love of Ireland and Irish self-reliance, appears to me to go to an impractical extreme when it preaches the withdrawal of Irish members from the Imperial Parliament. We should have some reasonable medium course."

One Sunday during his stay in New York the Cardinal preached at the Cathedral. He was resting in the afternoon, when one of the clergymen, a Monsignor and a New Yorker, but more than twenty years younger, approached him and asked: "What would Your Eminence like to do with the rest of the day?" In reply he said: "I'd like to take a little walk, for since I landed in America they have never let me put my foot on the ground, but have carried me everywhere."

hour in the park the Monsignor said: "I will take you back whenever you wish to go." "No, my friend," replied His Eminence, "I would not want to shorten your pleasant walk." So the Cardinal, led by the now panting Monsignor, traveled all over the park and saw his many handsome views. At the end of two and a half hours the Cardinal said: "I believe, after all, I'll have to spoil your pleasure, for my snuff has given out."

No other clergyman had invited His Eminence to take a walk, and when the heavy Monsignor asked him about it he replied: "I am not longing for another opportunity to coax the kinks out of the legs of a successor to St. Patrick."

REAL KENTUCKIAN
Elected Prior of St. Louis
Bertrand Church and Convent.

The Rev. Father Joseph Richard Clark, O. P., has been elected Prior of St. Louis Bertrand Church, which carries with it the pastorate of St. Louis Bertrand's church. Father Clark was born at Fairfield, this State, and is the first Kentuckian to preside over the big Dominican parish in Louisville. He is moreover the youngest priest that was ever thus honored by his Dominican brethren. He succeeds the Very Rev. Father Bernard F. Logan, O. P., who was transferred to Minneapolis last January.

Father Clark belongs to one of the oldest Catholic families in Kentucky, and is a distant relative of the late Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati. After his ordination he was assigned to Columbus, Ohio, where he remained a short time. From there he came to Louisville three and a half years ago, and his zealous work was noted by his collaborators and the parishioners from the start. He was assistant to Father Logan, and on the latter's removal to Minneapolis became the acting Prior and pastor. He is an able and forceful speaker, and knows how to cultivate the good will of his parishioners as well as how to increase their devotion. Father Clark bears his honors modestly, but the people of St. Louis Bertrand are much pleased with his preferment.

SHAPING ENDS.
County Board Arranges
Details For Fourth of July.

In the absence of County President John A. Murphy, Judge Patrick W. Sullivan presided over the meeting of the County Board, A. O. H., Thursday night of last week. The principal topic of discussion was the arrangement of details for the big celebration of Hibernian day at White City, July 4. During the session interestingly discussed among the delegates, and they will in turn distribute them among the members of the various divisions.

Thomas Dolan, of Division 1, was appointed Chairman of the committee to arrange for the field day sports, and was given full power to make it as interesting as possible. He will announce his programme later. In taking care of the concessions none of the divisions were overlooked. The gate will be taken care of by Division 1, while Division 2 will have the "shoot the chimes" and figure 8. Division 3 will have the dancing hall and "boom boom" have been assigned to Division 3. The wheel of fortune has been assigned to the tender care of Division 4.

Messrs. John Kinney and William Coyle, of the Jeffersonville division, were present and made brief addresses. The speakers' opinion was that their division would hold no celebration July 4, and that on their return to Jeffersonville they would request their colleagues to join with their Kentucky brethren on that day. They also stated that they expected a large number of their members to join with Louisville's Hibernian Marching Club when it invades Indianapolis. The County Board thanked the visitors for their expressions of good will, and bade them a hearty welcome to their Indianapolis brethren. John M. Mulvey, President of Division 1, reported for the Printing and Publicity Committee. The tickets he presented announced that banners and posters had been ordered and stated that other advertising schemes were under way.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY.
Thomas O'Brien, a former resident of New Albany, but who has been a resident of Alexandria, Ind., during the past twelve years, died very suddenly in the latter town last Sunday. He was on the street talking with several friends when he was seized with pains in the heart. He fell to the sidewalk and expired a few moments later. The deceased was thirty-seven years old and is survived by three brothers and five sisters. The brothers are Frank and Ernest of New Albany, and John O'Brien, of Chicago. The sisters are Mrs. John O'Brien, Mrs. Peter Miller, Mrs. Mannon Martin and Miss Mayme O'Brien, of New Albany, and Mrs. John McAvoy, of Chicago. The remains were brought to New Albany and taken to the home of Mrs. Martin, 1326 Ekin avenue. The funeral took place from Holy Trinity church Wednesday.

ABLE TO WALK.
Frank Nadoff, who has been confined to his home at Eighteenth and Southgate streets, as the result of an accidental fall from a street car at Eighteenth and Walnut streets, is able to be out after confinement to his room for four weeks. Mr. Nadoff is still a little lame, but he says the grass and the trees in the park are a great deal better than his room.

JUBILARIANS.

Five Priests of This Diocese Are to Have Celebrations This Month.

Father John T. O'Connor to Be Honored by Holy Name
Parish.

Solemn High Mass Will Be Followed by Banquet in the School.

FATHER LYNCH WILL PREACH

On Wednesday, June 17, five priests of this diocese will celebrate their respective jubilees, and so far as can be learned, each of his parish. The jubilarians will be the REV. JOHN T. O'CONNOR.

Rev. John Thomas O'Connor, Holy Name parish, South Louisville; Rev. Joseph Aloysius Horgan, Lehigh; Rev. William Martin Buckman, New Haven; Dominic Joseph Higgins, West Louisville; and the Rev. John Francis McSherry.

Father O'Connor intended to have a very quiet celebration, but the loyal people of Holy Name church arranged something different before he was aware of it, and after the solemn high mass a banquet for a number of the jubilarian's friends will be served in the parochial school hall. Father O'Connor will celebrate the solemn high mass at 9 o'clock. The deacon and subdeacon have not been selected. The Rev. Father Edwyer Lynch, of Henderson, will preach the sermon and an augmented choir will sing. Carl Martin, Von Weber's mass, Mrs. William Lawler will preside at the organ. The church will be tastefully decorated for the occasion.

Among the ladies of the congregation who have been most active in arranging the social features of the jubilee are Mesdames Leo Richards, John Gorman, Edward Keating, J. B. Cummings, M. E. Kearns, George Barras, Mary Ludwig, Mary Schuck, Edward Wells and Misses Ann Caffrey, Mammie Sullivan, Katie Hickey and M. Esswein. These ladies have not only arranged an appetizing menu, but have secured artistic souvenirs, and many of the clergy have signified their intention to be present.

The men of the congregation, too, under the leadership of Col. Michael Reicher, are leading their endeavors to make the affair a success. People of all creeds in South Louisville admire Father O'Connor. He has done a wonderful work in his parish. When he took charge of Holy Name parish as people were few in number and widely scattered. Year by year he has added to their number, the section has been built rapidly within a few years past, and the pastor has built a brick church and school house to take the place of the old frame structure. The grounds surrounding the church are large enough to accommodate much larger buildings in years to come.

Twenty-five years at the altar mark an epoch in a priest's life, and more particularly in America, where the life of the missionary priest, and they are all practically missionaries in the United States, is very strenuous. Ecclesiastical statistics show that the American priest averages only thirteen and a half years after his ordination. There is no other profession or trade that will show such a low average. The priests who reach the twenty-five year mark are comparatively few, and the parishioners of those who do attain their silver jubilee do all in their power to show their appreciation of their pastor's efforts.

Looking after parochial schools, running sick calls at all hours of the night and in all kinds of weather, sitting for hours in the confessional, long fasts and often harsh criticisms are part of what the priest has to do. The ladies and gentlemen of Holy Name parish realize this and in arranging the celebration for June 17 desire to smooth over some of the rough places for Father O'Connor.

MAKES WISE CHOICE.
Hon. Herman D. Newcomb, who aspires to be the Democratic candidate for Congress from this district, will if nominated and elected take Attorney Robert T. Burke to Washington, D. C., at his private secretary. Mr. Burke is a rising young member of the Louisville bar. President of the Louisville bar, President of the Louisville bar, President of the Louisville bar.

rank. Few young men in Louisville have a wider acquaintance and more friends than he. There is no doubt that his influence will be felt between now and the time the nomination for Congress is made.

PLEASED PILGRIMS.

Pope Plus Paid Tribute to President of United States.

The pilgrims from the diocese of Brooklyn, N. Y., who accompanied Bishop McDonnell to Rome, were charmed with the reception given them by our Holy Father Plus X. The audience was granted at the request of the Right Rev. Monsignor Thomas J. Kennedy, rector of the American College in Rome. There were 100 pilgrims in the party, and all were delighted when the Pope paid tribute to President Roosevelt.

"I admire your President Roosevelt," said the Pope in Italian, "for his fight against those who are seeking to amass wealth regardless of the means employed. I admire him also for his deeply respectful attitude toward the Catholic church. I have been always deeply impressed by the industry, intelligence, power and faith of Americans. It seems to me that Americans are consumed by a double fervor, the love of gold and devotion to religion. You should try to curb your passion for gold so that it will not lead you into immoderate desires. I trust God will keep alive your devotion to religion. I trust the Catholic religion in America will continue to refine your sentiments and purify your souls. Religion is a good guide in all steps of life, whether it be in business, society or politics."

What Influence Does Foster
Wield Over Those in Charge?

Why Should Taxpayers Pay to Improve Property of City Officials?

ANXIOUS INQUIRIES ARE MANY

What is it that Robert J. Foster knows about the city administration that holds him on the police or detective force? What secret influence does he wield? How does he manage to put things through in the Police Court when the preponderance of evidence is against him?

A case in point occurred last Saturday when Foster appeared as a prosecuting witness against Sam Etness, a former member of the detective force. Foster had sworn out a disorderly conduct warrant against Etness. When he took the stand he told that he had appeared as a witness before the License Board on Thursday in a case against George Beck; that when he descended at City Hall stairs Beck and Etness were talking. Foster said he spoke to Beck and Beck, using a vile epithet, "told me to go to hell." Foster said he reported the matter to Chief Detectives Thomas and, and the latter's advice was to sue on the warrant for Etness's arrest because he felt he had been insulted.

Henry Nix, who was called to corroborate Foster's testimony, failed utterly to corroborate it with the case. He was standing at the other side of the stairway and heard Beck say something to Etness, but did not know what it was. He did not hear Etness's reply. Etness was the first witness for the defense, and he was talking with George Beck when Foster came down the stairs and arrested Beck. The latter said: "That fellow the nerve to speak to me?" Etness replied, "Yes he has." His testimony was fully corroborated by George Beck and John Stoll, reputable business men. Mr. Etness was represented by Attorney Joseph Conkling, Prosecuting Attorney Bill Spaulding appeared for the prosecution, but he did not prosecute very hard. He saw that the preponderance of evidence was in favor of the defense. No attempt was made to argue the case. Special Judge William Krieger, who occupied the bench in the absence of Judge J. Wheeler McGee, said "Ten dollars." A shock ran through the whole court room. The decision was a surprise.

Etness is a native of Louisville and has an excellent reputation as a citizen, as a detective and as a Democratic worker. He was never in the United States army; nor did he serve a term in prison to satisfy a sentence of court martial for conduct unbecoming a soldier. As much as can be said for Foster, Conkling, Otto Cohen preferred charges against Foster a month ago. The witnesses were heard before the Board of Public Safety and behind closed doors. The public has never been allowed to read or hear the bulk of the charges. Thursday the Board of Public Safety connected Foster. An interesting exhibit in the case was a photograph from the records of the War Department. Will somebody please tell what is the influence that keeps Foster in the employ of the city?

At the suggestion of Councilman Jack Richardson a committee of five members of the lower board of the General Council is investigating a matter that is not at all creditable to the Board of Public Works if the premises of Mr. Richardson are correct. When the charges are correct ordinary procedure the owners of property abutting are required to pay the cost. Councilman Richardson complains that the Board of Public Works has let a contract for the improvement of Fulton street, between Shelby and Campbell, at a cost of $16,000, and that the city will be called upon to pay for it, instead of C. C. Stoll, a member of the Board of Public Works, who owns the abutting property. Mr. Stoll claims that the contract calls for reconstruction instead of original improvement. The investigation ought to bring out the facts.

Thursday afternoon Acting Chief of Police Burke was compelled to prefer charges of conduct unbecoming policemen against Detective Ed Ecker and Joe Pickering, patrolmen. Ecker is accused of terrorizing the women of a disorderly house. Pickering is said to have been in the house with Ecker, but left before the bombardment began. Pickering has a record that will not stand a searchlight, while Ecker is a civic righteousness refuser. Will the civic righteousness preachers denounce the conduct of these men tomorrow, or will they avail the tardy action of Mayor Grinstead and the Board of Public Safety?

Such great pressure was brought to bear upon the Orpheus Club and the Catholic Woman's Club and the Catholic Woman's Club that "The Mikado" will be reproduced at Macanley's Theatre next Monday night. There were many who would not obtain seats and everybody who witnessed the performance excited the interest of others. Now it has been decided to give a second performance with the same cast and chorus. Prof. Leo A. Schmitt, of course, will endeavor to direct the performance a second time.

Messrs. John J. Flynn, David Maloney, George Barrett, Tello Wehl, Edward Wolfe, John J. Crotty and other members are in favor of making the Orpheus Club a permanent organization. The Germans have their Liederkreis and Concordia societies, and the Orpheus Club leaders argue that it is high time for the Catholic young men and women to organize their own musical society. Those who witnessed the performance Monday night will admit that there is plenty of talent. Seats are now on sale at Macanley's box office.

POPE GREET'S PRIESTS.
Pope Plus X. received in audience Monday all the priests in Rome who preached during the May devotion to the Immaculate Queen of Heaven, and expressed his desire to meet all those who had been instrumental in increasing devotion to her in the Eternal City this year. Her injuries were discovered to be fatal, but she lingered until 10 o'clock Monday night. The bereaved family have the greatest sympathy of the entire community. The funeral services were held Thursday morning at the Cathedral, attended by many sorrowing friends and relatives.

The two companies of the Uniform Rank, C. K. of A., are expecting a large attendance at their triple attraction at Phoenix Hill Park next Tuesday night. Euchre, drill and dancing ought to furnish enjoyment enough for everybody. The euchre games will be played on the delightful esplanade, and will be called at 8:15 o'clock sharp. The big hall down stairs will be given over to dancing until the euchre games are finished. Major Gen. Michael Leichert, Col. Joseph P. Mettlin and Capt. C. Kane will then take the uniformed Knights on the floor and put them through drills by companies and battalion.

After the drill dancing will be resumed and the Knights will seek partners among the pretty girls who are in attendance. The Central Committee will have charge of the whole affair, and the proceeds will go to swell the fund for the entertainment of the delegates to the State convention of the C. K. of A. to be held here this fall. There will be many nice prizes to be awarded the winners in the euchre games.

In the afternoon the alumnae will hold their banquet, and in the evening will hear a lecture from Rev. Father William Dunn, O. S. A., the Rev. Father William Dunn, O. S. SPLENDID

Dedication of Handsome Quarters.

Members of Division 1 Played Hosts and Others Were Guests.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Accorded a Warm Welcome by the Men.

PLEASANT ADDRESSES DELIVERED

The new quarters of Division 1, A. O. H., in Falls City Hall, were formally dedicated last Tuesday night. The hall was comfortably filled with guests. Members of Division 1 are noted for their hospitality and kept up their reputation on this recent occasion. The Ladies' Auxiliary and the members of the other three divisions accepted the invitation of No. 1, and the result was a most congenial get-together and happy Hibernian affair. President John M. Milloy called the meeting to order and welcomed the ladies and other visitors in behalf of the division. He dispatched such business as was absolutely necessary and then called upon Thomas Dolan, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, to take chair.

Chairman Dolan thanked the visitors for their attendance and expressed the opinion that such a gathering would be a help to the Ladies' Auxiliary and the four divisions, as well as a help to the order in general. Meetings like this, he said, were productive of good feeling and love to keep the true spirit of Hibernianism. He called upon Miss Mary Corcoran, the State President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, who made a brief talk in response to Chairman Dolan's invitation. She complimented Division 1 on its new quarters and urged all present to keep Hibernianism before the public. Miss Corcoran said she had information to the effect that the auxiliary was pushing to the front everywhere. Many ladies besides the delegates were coming to this, she said, and the new quarters of the State convention of the auxiliary, which will be held in Louisville this fall.

After a musical selection by the Kilkenny Band, John L. Hennessy, President of Division 4, was called upon. He said he was glad to be with Division 1, but if he were, in the chair he would think long and hard over a meeting of Division 4, so well was it represented. State President George J. Butler was the next speaker. He said he was sure Division 1 would continue to flourish and grow stronger. The order was taken on new life, and he felt sure that the Hibernians of this city and county would make a proper showing at the national convention in Indianapolis. The outlook for Hibernianism was never brighter and the former enthusiasm is being rekindled everywhere. He pleaded with the young men and women to take their places among the ranks of the workers.

Little Miss Lettie Kilkelly sang a ballad that was well received, after which Thomas Shelley, a veteran Hibernian, gave a graphic and amusing account of the Irish in Louisville. Irishmen played in the Fenian rail into Canada in 1866. His story was listened to with interest and evoked enthusiasm. A song by Louis Kress followed and he received a hearty encore. Attorney Thomas Quinn was the next speaker. He was humorous in his tribute to the Hibernians in his tribute to the Hibernians of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Thomas Keenan, Sr., and Martin Cusick made brief addresses, and then the assembly was regaled with a song by Miss Mary Corcoran, Judge Patrick F. Sullivan, President of Division 3, expressed pleasure for justice and other members for the hospitality afforded. Miss Rose Sweeney received an ovation, but said only a few words. William P. McDonough, of Division 4, said he was spending a most enjoyable evening and favored the sentiment expressed by John Keenan. The exchange of opinions, he said, was always instructive and beneficial. Dan Reilly sang the "Irish Jubilee" by special request.

Miss Fannie Kennedy, one of the hard workers in the auxiliary, expressed her pleasure at the size and spirit of the gathering. Miss Lizzie King said she considered these meetings productive of good to the order and promoted its growth. George Riley sang a song, after which Mrs. Daniel Dougherty made a brief talk. Misses Mary and Rose Dolan played a duet on the piano and David O'Connell made a brief address as a representative of Division 1. The members of Kilkelly's Band, which rendered selections during the evening, were Willie Grant, Ernest Horn and Henry Kinkel. Miss Collette Nunn sang a song and Chairman John M. Milloy called the meeting to order and welcomed the ladies and other visitors in behalf of the division. He dispatched such business as was absolutely necessary and then called upon Thomas Dolan, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, to take chair.

Chairman Dolan thanked the visitors for their attendance and expressed the opinion that such a gathering would be a help to the Ladies' Auxiliary and the four divisions, as well as a help to the order in general. Butler was the next speaker. He said he was sure Division 1 would continue to flourish and grow stronger. The order was taken on new life, and he felt sure that the Hibernians of this city and county would make a proper showing at the national convention in Indianapolis. The outlook for Hibernianism was never brighter and the former enthusiasm is being rekindled everywhere. He pleaded with the young men and women to take their places among the ranks of the workers.

This evoked a general expression on the big Fourth of July celebration and both ladies and gentlemen promised to work for the success of Hibernian day at the White City. During the evening the Entertainment Committee dispensed ice cream, cake and cigars among its guests. The evening was a most enjoyable one, and the Hibernians and auxiliary are looking forward to another good time when Division 4 gives its entertainment.

DEMOCRACY REUNITED.

Every faction of the Democratic party in Louisville has gotten together and today the old time leaders will marshal their respective forces so that a united delegation of 114 will go to Lexington next Thursday to take part in the State convention. Former and able leaders who had bitter differences have put aside their quarrels and have joined hands for the common weal of the party. Their example ought to prove profitable to leaders in other sections of the State. Lack of unity among the Democrats lost the State and city last November. The leaders know it, and now see into what straits the grand old commonwealth has fallen. The city is being honeycombed by grafters and worse than grafters. Conditions have become intolerable, and the only way to abate the evil is for all hands to get together and stamp it out. Once the public is convinced that the union has been cemented even right-minded Republicans, who are disgusted with the local regime, will aid the Democrats in putting down the lawlessness and graft that are sweeping over Louisville.

The fact that the old Democratic leaders have gotten together is not pleasant news to the would-be leaders of the Fusionists. There is weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth from those who would continue the reign of Grinstead, Foster and Bullitt. Howls of rage are going up daily, and there are some who refuse to believe that the Democratic coalition is an accomplished fact. The work to be done today ought to convince the most doubtful. The mass conventions will be held in every legislative district and there will be no quarrelling, bickering or stealing as there was at the Republican primary on April 25. The conventions will be held at 3 o'clock and every Democrat will be given an opportunity to voice his sentiments. As well are the boys in the trenches satisfied that they are practically willing to let the old leaders name the delegates. Many good men have been suggested, but the voters will be allowed a free hand this afternoon in selecting their 114 candidates.

As a result of the Democratic State convention the entire machinery of the party in Kentucky and Louisville will be reorganized. To this end each legislative district in this city and county ought to send its ablest and most discerning Democrats to Lexington next Thursday. A full and free vote this afternoon will develop that the party in Louisville means business, and it will bring terror to the camp of Republicans and Fusionists.

The City and County Committee was strengthened materially a few weeks ago, when W. Hume Logan was made Chairman, Ben C. Watson, Secretary, and by the choice of Major Patrick Ridge as committeeman from the Forty-fifth district. The present committee may suffer some slight changes as a result of the State convention, but whatever is done will be done for the best interests of the Democratic party. John J. Barry, former Deputy Bailiff of the Police Court, who has long been a zealous worker both in and out of his district, is being hoisted by his friends for Chairman of the Forty-seventh district. His election will add a tower of strength to the Democratic ranks.

The thing for every Democrat to do today is to go to the conventions in their respective districts this afternoon, and to vote for the best men obtainable for delegates to the State convention.

MITCHELL LOOMS UP.

John Mitchell, ex-President of the United Mine Workers of America and the most popular labor leader in the United States today, is looming up as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Illinois. Mr. Mitchell was called into a conference with Roger C. Sullivan, John T. Connery and other Democratic leaders last Saturday. Such strong men as John P. McGorty, James Hamilton Lewis and Douglas Patterson are already in the race for the gubernatorial nomination, but it seems that Sullivan wants a still stronger candidate, and believes that John Mitchell is the man. The great labor leader is considering the proposition and will announce his decision June 15.

Should he decide to shy his caster into the political arena there is no telling where he will stop. He is the idol of the coal miners and every working man in America recognizes him as a friend. He has never been a demagogue, nor has he ever led his followers with false hopes. He is a foe to strikes and strikes, but when once in his opponent knows that he has found a foe man worthy of his steel. If John Mitchell accepts the chance to become a candidate for the nomination he will be elected Governor of the Sucker State. Meanwhile there is talk of naming him for the Democratic nomination for the Vice Presidency of the United States. What a team Bryan and Mitchell would make in a race. If the ticket is so made up the entire country will go Democratic in November.

WIN BACK PROSPERITY.

A telegram from Birmingham says that with the resumption of mines, furnaces and other industries this week, 8,000 men who have been idle for months have returned to work, and Lewis Nixon, the great shipbuilder, says that work in all the American shipyards will soon be plentiful. These reports are encouraging. Now let us all quit talking hard times. Let all who have something to sell get out and advertise. That is the best means of bringing back prosperity.

Vacation is close at hand, and many boys and girls are anxious to be free from stuffy school rooms and books for sixty days or more. Many expect to spend the time in play. Others expect to help papa and mamma about the house and yard. Others still desire to go out and earn a dime or so and put it away for a rainy day. They will find plenty of places to put them if they want to start a saving account. The Franklin Bank and several other local banking institutions are ready to take care of the pennies planted in a garden. In the end the young sowers of pennies will reap a harvest of dollars, and meanwhile will have learned habits of thrift and industry.

At last the Louisville police force has gotten busy with the searchers. Three of them were arrested Tuesday night for exceeding the speed limit and hiding number tags. For some time past many owners of automobiles have raced through the streets without any regard for pedestrians. Half a dozen heavy fines would have a beneficial effect on these rapid travelers.

AGED LADY'S DEATH.

Mrs. Catherine McLarron, one of the oldest and most respected ladies of New Albany, died at her home, 512 East Elm street, late Sunday night. Mrs. McLarron was seventy-seven years of age, and had lived the greater part of her life in New Albany. She had been in ill health for more than a year and her death was not unexpected. She is survived by one son, Louis McLarron, of Dayton, Ohio, and three stepchildren, Rev. Father Eugene McLarron, of Evansville; Miss Sallie McLarron, also of Evansville, and Mrs. Jane Ward, of Terre Haute. The funeral took place from Holy Trinity church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and was attended by a large concourse of friends.

ST. ANN'S SCHOOL EXERCISES.

The closing exercises of St. Ann's parochial school, Seventh street, south of Hayes, will be held at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of Friday, June 19. The admission will be twenty-five cents. Rev. Father John T. Hill, pastor of St. Ann's, is very anxious to have as large a crowd as possible present to witness the initial exercises of his young pupils. On the afternoon of the day before the children will be given a pleasant treat by the pastor and teachers.

DOCTOR CASPER'S LUCK.

Burglars entered the home of Dr. Michael Casper, 1503 Twelfth street, Wednesday night, and though they made away with a pair of the doctor's trousers and $10, entirely overlooked diamonds worth $700. It is believed that the burglars were scared away by the barking steps of Louis Dwyer, Dr. Casper's father-in-law, who heard the shutters slam and ascribed the cause to the wind. Dr. Casper was absent from the city.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

The Y. M. I. Supreme Council Entertainment Committee, made up of members from Trinity, Mackin and Unity Councils, will hold an important meeting at Mackin's club house at 3 o'clock sharp tomorrow afternoon. Plans for the Y. M. I. day celebration at White City on Tuesday, June 16, are to be discussed and certain work is to be assigned to each council.

PRIEST'S SAD MISSION.

The Rev. Father Eugene McLarron, of Evansville, was called to New Albany this week by the death of his aged mother, whose funeral took place Wednesday. He is a native of New Albany and has many warm friends in that city.

SHOWED FERVOR.

More Than Forty Thousand
In Church Parade at Minneapolis.

The cornerstone of the Minneapolis pro-Catholic was blessed last Sunday by Archbishop Ireland and nearly every priest in the "Twin Cities" assisted at the solemn ceremonies, while 40,000 men took part in the street procession that preceded. At least 100,000 men, women and children thronged around the site of the new edifice. It was a notable event for Catholicism in the Northwest. Minneapolis has not a Catholic population proportionately as large as some other cities in the United States, but the people are firm in the faith, and have collected funds enough to guarantee the erection of one of the handsomest structures for divine worship in all this broad land. The structure, it is estimated, will take at least two years to erect, and the cost will be something over $1,000,000. It will be built of stone, and the interior will be finished in marble. The best artists and sculptors to be had will lend a hand in the decorations.

BISHOP O'DWYER'S VIEW.

The Right Rev. Dr. O'Dwyer, Bishop of Limerick, in a letter to his people thus sums up the attitude of the Irish hierarchy to the new university bill: "We do not quite like it, but ought we to refuse it? What the Bishops object to is that while a separate university is provided in Dublin for Catholics there is no guarantee that it will remain Catholic. The scheme provides for the inclusion of two Bishops in the temporary senate, but there is no guarantee that they will be continued or that their successors will be members of the same faith."

SYRACUSE SHOWS FIGURES.

The Right Rev. Patrick A. Ludden, Bishop of Syracuse, N. Y., has called a meeting of the Council and permanent rectors of his diocese to suggest candidates for the permanent office of Coadjutor Bishop. Bishop Ludden was consecrated twenty years ago, and when he assumed charge found forty parish churches, twenty mission churches, seventy-four priests and a Catholic population of 70,000. Today the diocese of Syracuse has seventy parish churches, thirty-five mission churches, 118 priests and a Catholic population of 149,768.

SLOW BUT SURE.

At present there are nine Catholics representing English constituencies in the House of Commons. No greater number of Catholic members have been representing England since the days of Henry VIII. and his alleged reformation.

powers. He visited Ireland and spent a whole day with Richard Croker, the former Democratic boss of New York. Mr. Nixon says the former head of Tammany is a great Bryan man, but will not come to the United States until after the Presidential election.

TWO ORDERS CONFOUNDED.

In noticing the Supreme convention of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, which met in Kansas City during the week beginning May 18, the Associated Press dispatches confounded the Catholic Knights of America with the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America. As a consequence the daily papers all over the country announced that the Catholic Knights had raised their rates 20 per cent. Instead it was the Catholic Knights and Ladies who raised the rates. The two orders are separate and distinct. The C. K. of A. have not raised their rates since 1904, when they were mathematically and correctly computed by one of the ablest actuaries in the United States.

MERITED PROMOTION.

Roy Meeks, for some time Assistant Superintendent of Carriers at the local Postoffice, has been made Superintendent to succeed James A. Steele, who in turn succeeds H. C. Struss as auditor of the department. Mr. Meeks is popular with the carriers and with the public that have had business dealings with him. He is receiving many congratulations on his promotion. Mr. Steele's new office is a very important one, and he will fill it as capably as he did that of Superintendent of Carriers.

WORD IN TIME.

The people who are most vitally interested in securing tavern licenses have been notified that unless their applications are presented in the Sinking Fund office on or prior to June 20 they will be given scant consideration. A raise of from $150 to $200 a year is quite an increase, and few people want to tie up that much money for several months when they are in doubt about obtaining the license. For those who do not apply before that date there is trouble ahead.

HOPKINS THEATER.

Manager E. W. Dustin has certainly caught the popular sentiment with his motion pictures, and as a result Hopkins Theater has had good houses this week. On two or three occasions every seat was taken and some of the spectators had to stand. The superior excellence of the films and the expert handling of the lights have attracted attention. As long as Mr. Dustin remains in charge the people of Louisville will make one or more trips to his playhouse every week.

PIANO STORE.

"Do" your friends and favor your acquaintances doesn't go in this store any more than the old worn out rule some stores claim to have of "You're a friend and I will make you a better price." Both are bad—the first time a house reveals different prices on the same article that house reveals the act of taking advantage of some one customer. A house can not exist that transacts business to suit friends when that act has to do with the making of the price. We have other ways of treating our friends—by friends we mean our customers, for we consider our best friends our customers.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

A new division has been organized at St. Mary's, La. Four county, Minn.

The Milwaukee Ladies' Auxiliary held a successful children's night Monday at St. John's Cathedral Assembly Hall.

Division 2 will hold its regular meeting next Friday night. The Marching Club and other matters are to be reported.

Chairman John Fitzgibbon, of Division 4's Entertainment Committee, is not ready to announce the date for his division's entertainment.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet Wednesday night and the committee on outing will report that it has engaged the White City for June 22.

Division 7 of Syracuse is preparing to hold its annual outing and field day during June. A game of Gaelic football will be one of the main features.

The four Cincinnati divisions will be prominent factors in the outing at Chester Park to be held under the auspices of the united Irish societies of the Queen City on August 16.

Next Thursday evening will be the regular meeting night for Division 3. President Patrick Sullivan wants every member present to imbibe the enthusiasm for the moonlight excursion.

President Mulloy and the members of Division 1 expect all the Falls City divisions to be well represented Tuesday night when the new quarters in Falls City Hall are formally dedicated.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Utica celebrated its fifth anniversary at its latest meeting, and at the banquet that followed the musical and literary exercises covers were laid for sixty ladies.

Notices have been sent out requesting the attendance of all members of Division 1 next Tuesday night. It is hoped that all will be present to greet the many visitors and spend a pleasant and profitable evening.

The Paris division has adopted appropriate resolutions on the death of P. J. McCarthy, one of the order's most loyal members, who died at Lexington, May 21. The committee that drafted the resolutions was made up of Rev. Father Eugene De Bruyn, E. M. Costello and E. H. Gray.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Rev. Father Martin O'Connor wishes to return thanks through the columns of the Kentucky Irish American to the members of St. Michael's Altar Society and other members of the parish for their generous donations of household furniture for St. Michael's rectory and for a suit of clothes and cassock for himself.

FATHER GILLIG'S WILL.

The will of the late Rev. Father John P. Gillig was admitted to probate in New Albany a few days ago. The testator leaves his entire estate to the Rev. Father Joseph Diekmann, of St. Joseph's church, Clark county, Ind. The will is dated December 14, 1885. Whatever funds accrue will be devoted to the advancement of the church in that diocese.

OUR SISTER CITY'S GIRLS.

Jeffersonville will be well represented at the performance of "The Mikado" at Macaulay's Theater Monday night. Misses Margaret Constantine, Bertha Heuser, Sonia and Agnes Kenny, Clementine Brooks and Irene Howard are among those who take part in the opera, and all friends are coming to applaud their efforts.

AUXILIARY'S OUTING.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., has arranged for an outing at White City on Monday, June 22. The funds that accrue will be used in entertaining the delegates from other auxiliaries when they arrive to attend the State convention. Miss Mary Corcoran, Miss Fanny Kennedy and other members of the committee that have the affair in charge expect the earnest support of the Hibernians in their enterprise.

FOOD FOR FANS.

Louisville's base ball club arrived home Tuesday after a long trip on the road. It had a hard battle, but landed in second place. Few ball teams ever won as many victories as the Louisville boys did under the management of James Burke. Today the club plays a double header at Toledo. Monday they will return for a long stay and will cross bats with Clemen's Columbus team Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

FRANCIS CLUB'S SUCCESS.

"In the Shadow of the Rockies," produced by the Francis Dramatic Club in its hall, at Seventh and Southgate streets, Monday and Tuesday nights, was a success financially and dramatically. The hall was crowded on both nights and the audience was generous in its applause. It is very probable that the members of the Francis Dramatic Club will be prevailed upon to give another performance in New Albany for the benefit of St. Edward's Hospital.

FONTAINE FERRY PARK.

Good weather brought big crowds to the present week. The excellent vaudeville show, the music, the "Tieker," and all the other attractions came in for their respective share of attention every afternoon and evening. Tony Landenwich is a drawing card in himself, and the place, with its green trees, shady lanes and pleasant walks, looks more natural with him installed at the head of the culinary department. Another excellent vaudeville bill is promised for next week.

SINGERS TO COME.

Louisville Germans and Swiss have organized a society to make arrangements for the proper entertainment of the singers who will visit this city during the Saengerfest to be held here in July or August. Fred Mueller has been made Chairman and will soon announce his committee. It is expected that 1,000 singers and many thousands of visitors will attend the big musical jubilee.

I. C. OUTING CLUB.

Members of the I. C. Outing Club will leave today for a week or ten days' stay at their fishing camp at West Point. All are expert fishermen and desire their friends to write them if they need fish, because they are certain they will catch more than they will be able to eat. The members of the club are A. W. Gross, Robert Kinsinger, William S. Elder, T. X. Stout, E. J. King, Fred De Long, W. S. Thomas and George J. Heybach. They are well supplied with bait.

Albert Murtagh, a respected resident of Warrenpoint, County Louth, died recently. His remains were sent to the family burying ground, Conington, Navan, for interment.

Miss Bridget Mary Bourke and William Albert Taylor were married at Golden, County Tipperary, last week. The bride is the daughter of Patrick Burke, of Ardaraheen, and the groom is a thrifty young business man.

Saints Michael and Victor church, at Donaghmoyle, County Monaghan, has been reopened after its extensive renovation, and its pastor and parishioners consider it the finest edifice dedicated to divine worship in the diocese of Clogher.

At Gralla farm, on the road to Loughrea between 200 and 300 farmers and forty police had an encounter while the former were engaged in cattle driving. The police were driven from the scene, and one, Head Constable Murphy, was severely injured.

John McMurri, eighteen years old, shot Patrick Brennan, fifteen years old, at Dundalk. McMurri was walking on the streets with a young lad when Brennan and other boys threw sods of turf at them. McMurri says he fired in self-defense. Brennan's wound was not serious.

The people of Louth and Monaghan mourn the death of Patrick O'Rourke, proprietor of the Inniskillen mills, but who retired from active business several years ago. His son, Bernard O'Rourke, Chairman of the Carrickmacross Board of Guardians, succeeded his father in the management of the mills. His remains were interred in St. Patrick's cemetery, Dundalk.

Mrs. Mary Herlihy, eighty-five years old, and her son, John, forty years old, respected people of the Letterconnell district, County Kerry, were drowned in Glenties river. The mother and son walked to Kenmare, a distance of twelve miles, to hear mass and receive holy communion. En route home the mother fell from the slippery stones into the river. Her son lost his life in attempting to save her.

John McMurri, of Clonmel, and former Superintendent of Inland Revenue, is dead at the age of seventy-five. In his younger days he achieved fame by frustrating the attempt of Woodcock Garden, the infamous Larnham landlord, to abduct Miss Arbuthnot, a beautiful and wealthy heiress. He served in England, Ireland and Scotland in the inland Revenue service and was retired on a pension ten years ago.

NEW IRISH CANTATA.

"The Voyage of Maeldune," a dramatic cantata founded on a legend of Ireland, and interpreted by a chorus of sixty trained voices, a vocal quartet and forty members of the Chicago Orchestra, was presented to an audience of 2,500 at Orchestra Hall in Chicago last Sunday night. While the cantata has been given in Dublin and other Irish cities within the last few years, the Chicago effort was the first presentation in America. The legend was translated into English verse by the late Alfred Tennyson, and the music reflects the genius of the Irish composer, Sir Charles Villiers Stanford. The Chicago rendition held the audience pleased and spellbound.

NEARS FOUR SCORE.

Cardinal Moran, of Sidney, Australia, was born September 17, 1830, at Lechlincbridge, County Kildare, Ireland, and is therefore nearly eighty years old. For twenty-three years he has held the rank of Cardinal. The venerable prelate is soon to make a visit to his native land, and it is said may make a tour of the United States.

HINTS ON STYLE.

A popular sleeve device is to simulate the wide armhole by a band of material.

The latest in gloves is the long chamails with the buttoned strap across the wrist.

Stripes are on everything; stripes even are trimmed with stripes; there are striped cloth shoe uppers.

DESTROY INSECTS.

Dissolve two pounds of alum in three quarts of water. Let it remain over night until all alum is dissolved. Then with a brush apply boiling hot to joints or crevices in the closet or shelves where eron bugs, ants, cockroaches, etc., intrude; also joints and crevices of bedsteads, as bedbugs can not live where this solution is applied.

CERTAINLY COMES HIGH.

It costs nearly as much to pay the salaries of the municipal servants of New York City as it does to support the entire army of the United States. The salaries amount close to $70,000,000 annually.

THE MICE KEPT OUT.

In the fall the mice are pressing to get in the house. Take cotton batten and fill with cayenne pepper. Fill all the mouse holes with this and you will not be bothered with mice. This is for the readers who have old frame houses.

GREAT GRIEF

Hastened Untimely End of Popular Louisville
Dentist.

Grief over the death of his son Oliver hastened the death of Dr. Robert Emmet Galvin, for twelve years a member of the Louisville School Board. Dr. Galvin had been a resident of Louisville for nineteen years, and as a practitioner of dentistry was widely known. He had been suffering from lung trouble since Christmas, and died at his home, 1212 1/2 West Chestnut street, Monday morning. He died fortified by all the rites of the church, and his funeral took place from the Sacred Heart church Wednesday morning. His wife, formerly Miss Louise Hummel, and one daughter, Myra, eleven years old, survive him.

About two months ago his thirteen-year-old son, one of the brightest boys in the High School, succumbed to pneumonia. His father had set great hopes in the boy and his early demise so unnerved the parent that he, too, sank to an untimely end. Dr. Galvin was born in Plattsburg, N. Y., forty-one years ago. At the age of twenty-two he removed to Louisville and in 1897 graduated from the Louisville College of Dentistry. He began at once to practice his profession and made rapid strides both professionally and politically. He was elected six successive terms as a member of the School Board from the Tenth ward, and served one year as President of that body. In addition to his wife and daughter Dr. Galvin is survived by two sisters, Mrs. M. A. Fitzgerald and Mrs. J. B. Harris, both of Plattsburg, and three brothers, Dr. John W. Galvin, of the Louisville School Board; E. C. Galvin, of Saratoga, N. Y., and F. R. Galvin, of Arnold Hill, N. Y.

COUNTY BOARD

Expects to Hold a Big Day at the White City
July 4.

The Jefferson County Board of the A. O. U. met with Division 3 on Thursday night of last week, with President John A. Murphy presiding. President Murphy explained that the meeting had been called to hear the report of the special committee appointed to secure funds for the entertainment of the delegates to the State convention next September. State President George J. Butler was an interested auditor, and all of the divisions were well represented. John M. Mulloy, President of Division 1, reported in behalf of the committee that a contract had been closed for the White City on Saturday, July 4, and the action of the committee was approved. Many of the members expressed splendid suggestions in the way which the Fourth of July celebration ought to be advertised. John M. Mulloy, William J. Connelly, Edward J. Kieran and Lawrence J. Mackey were appointed members of a committee on advertising and publicity and were given a liberal field in which to act. The Executive and the Printing Committees met immediately after the County Board and decided that the celebration on July 4 should partake of the nature of a picnic and field day.

MEETING CLOSES TODAY.

The thirty-fourth annual racing meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club will be brought to a close this afternoon. The feature of the day will be the running of the Kentucky Oaks, a race for three-year-old fillies, and some of the best in the country are entered. From the opening day, May 5, until the present the meeting has been successful, and the elite of Kentucky society has paid its respects to the sport of kings. Those who like to dally with Dame Fortune have found that the Pari-mutuels is an improvement over the game with bookmakers. Horse racing is a sport peculiar to Kentucky and her people are proud of the sport and of Churchill Downs.

HONORS FOR KNIGHTS.

The Indiana Knights of St. John held their convention at Shelbyville last week, and in the distribution of offices St. Edward's Commandery of New Albany fared more than ordinarily well. Julius Miller was elected delegate to the Supreme convention which will be held at Reading, June 22-26, and John Henson was re-elected Grand Secretary, an office he has filled acceptably for two terms. The third delegate was Frank Ritz.

PILGRIM PRIEST.

The Rev. Father D. J. McShane, one of the most gifted priests in the diocese, has gone to Europe to spend a well earned vacation. For several years past Father McShane has been the chaplain at the Sacred Heart Academy, Crescent Hill. He will visit Rome and probably Ireland before he returns.

RUSHED THINGS.

The Members of Division 3
Made Way For Others.

On account of the meeting of the County Board, Division 3, A. O. U., transacted only such routine business as was absolutely necessary Thursday night of last week. President Patrick T. Sullivan presided while the division was in session. The invitation to the dedication of Division 1's new quarters was accepted, as was also an invitation to attend the entertainment to be given by Division 4. Michael Hourigan was elected to membership. President Sullivan requested all the members to attend the celebrations of Divisions 1 and 4. Con Kallagher and William Bishop, who had been ill, were reported well. State President George J. Butler, John Riley and Joseph Karman reported progress for the moonlight excursion project on the steamer Hiawatha, June 15. They said tickets were in great demand. James Barry, of Division 1, was invited to make an address, and in response agreed all to show their brotherly love by attending Division 1's celebration. Thomas Keenan, Sr., former State President, made an encouraging address. John Daven, William Hardiman and Michael Dineen were initiated. Action on a communication from the Catholic Woman's Club was deferred.

TWO SESSIONS

Within Five Days Kept All
Mackin's Members
Busy.

Mackin Council, Y. M. I., has held two business meetings since the latest issue of the Kentucky Irish American—one Friday night of last week and one Tuesday night of this week. At both meetings many matters of course were disposed of and the several performances of "A Mile From Town" came in for a great deal of favorable discussion. President Robert T. Burke congratulated the members on their splendid success.

Two new applications were received, and Robert Greenwell's application for a transfer from Lebanon was favorably acted upon. Joseph L. Lenihan, Second Grand Vice President, applied for a transfer from Saffell to Mackin Council. It was determined that the sixteen officers of Mackin Council would attend the performance of "The Mikado" under the auspices of the Catholic Woman's Club Monday night.

The Supreme Council reception committee reported that it had held a well attended and enthusiastic meeting in New Albany last Sunday. Mackin, Trinity and Unity Councils are working zealously for the success of Y. M. I. day, June 16, at White City. The Joint Committee requested that Mackin's Social Club would have charge of the dancing hall on Y. M. I. day, and John H. Stewart, President of the club, will call a special meeting to make the necessary arrangements.

SEASON'S FIRST LAWN FETE.

The ladies of St. Francis of Assisi congregation, at the Bardstovon road, have arranged to give a lawn fete next Tuesday and Wednesday evening. Rev. H. J. Rothert, pastor of St. Francis' church, is lending the ladies every assistance. At this season there is nothing more enjoyable than an afternoon spent in the country. The fresh air, the sunlight, the trees, the green fields, all God's work, something that man may imitate in pictures only, is worth while to people tired of brick and concrete pavements. After the fresh air and the pleasure to the eye the ladies will furnish refreshments to the inner man. Mrs. Louise G. Zimlich, Mrs. Frank J. Harpigny, Mrs. George Glass and Mrs. John Tegeny are in charge of the arrangements. Misses Clara Discher, Catherine Algieier, Theresa Harpigny and Clara Heitzman will be in charge of the ice cream and confectionery booth. Good music will be heard each afternoon and evening. The East Broadway cars will bring passengers within two blocks of the grounds every ten minutes and the Jeffersontown cars pass the grounds every hour.

BALFE'S CENTENNIAL.

Tomorrow night the Irish-Americans of New York City will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the renowned Irish composer, Michael William Balfe, William Ludwig, the noted Irish baritone, is in charge of the musical programme. Selections will be rendered from the "Bohemian Girl," "Satanella," "Maid of Arto," "The Siege of Rochelle," "The Rose of Castile" and from several of Balfe's exquisite arrangements of Moore's melodies.

BOUND FOR BLUEGRASS.

Mackin's Choral Club left for Lexington in a special car this morning, and will present "A Mile From Town" there this afternoon and evening. The success made in Louisville last week was noted by friends in the Bluegrass section, and at their earnest solicitation the young ladies and gentlemen who compose the club decided to put on the opera up there.
